

Patient information

Whatever is disclosed in the doctor-patient consultation is confidential between the patient and doctor. From time to time NHS organisations (who are subject to a duty of confidentiality), need to monitor diseases and their treatment, as well as assessing the quality of the service being provided in the practice.

Any data disclosed will be kept to the minimum, required to serve the purpose and where possible will be anonymised before disclosure. If you are concerned about any of the ways in which your confidential data is being used further information is available from the Practice Manager. You are entitled to register an objection, which will be respected.

Arden Medical Centre also participates in primary care research and is a member of Research Ready (accredited by the Royal College of General Practitioners).

Under the Data Protection Act, patients have the right to apply for access to their health records. Further information is available from the Practice Manager.

Patient rights and responsibilities

You have a right to expect a high standard of medical care from our practice and we will try at all times to provide the best care possible with the resources available. In order to assist us in this, we need you to take responsibility for keeping appointments and to order prescriptions in a timely manner.

We aim to provide a high standard of service, but if you feel you have reason to complain, please speak to a member of staff. A copy of our practice complaints procedure is available from the surgery.

Patient Feedback

We are always happy to receive feedback from patients. Patients can complete a feedback form, speak to reception, or ask to speak with the Practice Manager. Our complaints leaflet is available on the website, or from reception.

Zero Tolerance

Very occasionally a practice/patient relationship becomes untenable. In this situation the patient may choose to register elsewhere. The NHS operates a Zero Tolerance Policy with regard to violence and abuse. The practice has the right to remove these patients from their list with immediate effect. This would generally happen following a warning and a failure to rectify the situation. In these highly unusual circumstances patients will be notified in writing and the reason for removal will be recorded in the patient's medical record.

Practice Location

Communication

The practice has a Patient Participation Group (PPG) which welcomes any comments or suggestions about the service we provide. You are welcome to contact the PPG. Their details are available on the website or you can leave a message at the surgery.

Accessibility Standards

We want to make sure that patients can understand the different types of information that is given to them. If you have any communication needs, please let the practice know.

Data Protection Privacy Notice

Our Privacy Notice is available on our website and on display at the surgery. Details on how your data is used and how to opt out are available on our website.

CQC

We were last inspected by the Care Quality Commission in March 2019 and have been rated as Good with Outstanding in a number of areas. The full report can be accessed via our website.
